CAUSE OF THE OTTAWA FIGHT

Aylesworth's Obnoxious Election Bill.

AN ATTEMPT TO PUNISH CONSERVATIVE PROVINCES.

The public justly desires a plain statement concerning the struggle at Ottawa over the Aylesworth Election Bill.

In the fourth month of the session, Mr. Aylesworth introduced his Bill to amend the Election Act, bringing the Bill promised at the opening of three successive sessions, and after the Conservative Bill for election reform had been introduced by Mr. Alcorn. The Conservative Bill is directed against fraud and corruption, and does not touch Provincial control of the franchise or voters' lists in any province.

TWO VICIOUS FEATURES. The Aylesworth Bill contains two features on which the whole contest turns. One is that it takes from certain selected provinces the control of their election lists and gives it to partisan opponents of the Dominion Government, to be exercised when the campaign is in progress. The other destroys the secrecy of the vote by providing that ballots numbered or marked by returning officers shall be counted.

The last mentioned feature does not need discussion, but will be condemned on its face. It simply authorizes and encourages such election frauds as were exposed in the London conspiracy case.

AS THE BILL READS.

The other feature is set forth in Clause One, providing that in portions of Ontario and Quebec, not municipally organized, and in the whole of Manitoba and British Columbia "Voters' lists shall be prepared immediately after the issue of any writ for an election—or at any time when the Governor-in-council so directs; and for the purpose of preparing and giving effect to such voters' lists the Governor-in-council may appoint all necessary officers and confer upon them all necessary powers." It also declares "that no person whose name is not included in the voters' list so prepared and revised shall be entitled to vote."

WHO DID IT, AND WHY?

As to Quebec and Ontario the obvious purpose is to gather in the vote of transient labourers on the Transcontinental and to authorize "push polls." British Columbia and Manitoba, especially the latter, are sentenced to discrimination and loss of political rights because they have driven the machine Liberals from power. The authors of this tyrannical measure are a group of Manitoba political adventurers, the inventors of the "red line" crime of 1904, expelled from authority at home, and now conspiring at Ottawa against the liberties of their own province. Knowing that the indignant people of Manitoba, if left to their own choice, would remove them from the House of Commons, they have devised this scheme to obtain by manipulation of the voters' lists an election otherwise impossible.

HEELERS TO OVER-RULE JUDGES.

By this Bill absolute authority to say who shall vote is handed over on the eve of election to partisan appointees, chosen at campaign time by the Government candidates, and not required by the measure to have the slightest legal, educational or moral qualification. This is decreed by a party and a government, solemnly pledged to maintain provincial control of franchise and election lists. The province primarily selected for this invasion is the one with the most advanced, most complete and most judicial system of electoral revision in all Canada, having annual revisions performed by judges and giving all possible guarantees of fairness. It is a system so exact and just, that large rewards have been offered in vain for the name of a single person improperly omitted from registration, while similar challenges made in Parliament by advocates of the Aylesworth Bill have failed to bring out a single modern instance of injustice.

A RIGHTEOUS FIGHT.

It is not to be expected that the people of Manitoba would tamely submit to have their carefully and judicially prepared voters' lists thrown aside, and to go to the polls with lists made in the heat of election strife, by a gang of campaign heels, such as were employed in the fraudulent manipulations of 1904. Had the Opposition at Ottawa allowed this despotic scheme to be carried through, they would have been traitors to the provinces attacked and also to their own which might be the next assailed. They would also have been responsible for the serious consequences which would certainly have followed the attempt to apply so obnoxious a measure.

A WAVERING LEADER.

Sir Wilfrid's friends plead that he has promised to amend this clause. But the simple fact is that the Premier has offered no amendment, and given no statement to show what he means to do. The bill stands as it stood when introduced in March, and when explained in May by the Minister of Justice. Throughout the whole of May Sir Wilfrid Laurier has hesitated and evaded the issue. Driven one way by Mr. Sifton and his following of discredited land and timber-grabbing adventurers, and on the other by the influence of consistent Liberals and the dictates of honesty and decency, he has, so far, left the bill as it originally stood.

SIR WILFRID IS THE OBSTRUCTION.

The Premier now knows that his Western advisers deceived him in 1903, for the bill which they then secretly prepared and printed at the Government Bureau was exhibited in the House after Sir Wilfrid had repeatedly denied its existence, while its authors sat round and allowed him to mislead Parliament. He knows now that his former Minister of Justice, the present Chief Justice of Canada, kicked out in 1903 the same measure which Mr. Sifton and his friends have found Mr. Aylesworth ready to take up. The Prime Minister is sick and ashamed of the whole miserable business, but has not yet found the nerve to bring it to an end. While he has been beating about the bush, business of Parliament has been delayed. If there is any obstruction the obstructors are Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues.

OPPOSITION REASONABLE.

Meanwhile Mr. Borden and the Opposition members have tried their best to get a positive statement of what the Government intends to do. They declared at the beginning that they were willing to agree to any provision made necessary by the "over-lapping" of constituencies, and they have waited in vain week after week for the Premier to make up his mind and state his intention. Sir Wilfrid knows and admits that the Bill cannot and should not go through as it stands, but has offered no amendment, and appears to be helpless to deal with the emergency.

If the business of the country is to be done it is high time that this Government obstruction should cease. The moment Sir Wilfrid, despite the clamour of his Western supporters, submits reasonable amendments to the iniquitous Aylesworth Bill, the deadlock will be broken, estimates will be voted, and the session will close as soon as possible.

FOR SMALL KITCHENS.

Practical Furnishings That Affect Comfort of the Entire House.

The condition of the kitchen may affect the comfort of an entire house, for if cook is not good tempered the family is apt to know it by the dishes she sends to the table. For this reason if for no other it is the part of policy to make the woman's workroom as convenient and attractive as possible, and much may be done with the pantry. Shelves covered with rubber cloth not only look well, but are more easily kept clean than if bare or covered with paper. The cloth can be wiped over with a damp rag and made perfectly fresh, whereas wood requires the use of soap and more thorough drying. Paper runways and turns to allow dust or crumbs to get beneath.

Whatever is decided upon should be so cut as to hang over the front shaped into scallops. This is a pretty finish and also prevents the stuff turning up to become a dust trap.

A tack at each corner, front and back, is sufficient to hold and should not be driven in as far as the head, for it is then more difficult to pull when the time arrives to remove the covering.

Vegetables, such as potatoes, onions and the like, frequently kept in a kitchen pantry are apt to attract bugs if not carefully looked after. The best receptacles for such eatables are galvanized iron pails, which will not warp or fall apart and from which the dirt is easily washed. The objection, to having vegetables cleaned when they come into the house is that water will often cause them to decay before they can be used.

If, as is the case in some summer houses, there is no pantry, more effort will be required to make shelves in the kitchen look as well as be neat. Old window shades will do both of these. To accomplish this cut the roll from a curtain and measure it the length of the shelves.

Fasten the brackets to the shelf so that a white curtain tacked to the roller will hang close at either side and overlap it about one inch. Fasten a ring to the slat in the hem of the curtain to pull it down and raise by, and you will be surprised to see how long you can keep it clean and how nice it will look.

If you want the cupboard dark to help in keeping out flies, use a dark colored curtain outside of the white one and tacked with it to the shelf and roller. This makes a very neat little cupboard and is easily kept clean, as the white curtains only require to be soaked a few hours in warm suds and then boiled, rinsed, dried, pressed and returned to the shelves clean.

If the shelves and the walls behind them are painted white, the paper may be dispensed with, and the care of the cupboard will be much less, as the changing of paper is more bother than wiping off the shelves with a cloth wrung from suds.

Cretonne is sometimes used for the shelves and is very pretty for the purpose, especially if there is a small stand with a sewing basket or book on it and an easy roller with cushion of the cretonne near it. This is, of course, for the kitchen where there is plenty of room to sit in comfort, an unusual thing these days.

Sponge Cups. After baking sponge cake batter in cups remove a piece from the bottom large enough to admit of a generous tablespoonful of charlotte russe mixture or ices.

A Novel Ham Dish.

It is particularly attractive when served as a salad at luncheon or supper, says the Delineator. Thicken a quart of rich milk by letting it stand in a warm but not hot place overnight. Then put it into a cheesecloth bag and let it drain thoroughly. When it will drip no longer beat the drained milk for a few minutes or until it is smooth and creamy, add half a teaspoonful of sweet cream, with pepper and salt to taste, and at the last moment half a pound of finely chopped, cold boiled ham from which all the fat has been removed. Stir together thoroughly and serve on crisp lettuce leaves garnished with sliced olives.

The Talent of Talking.

If you would be a good talker, tell the truth as far as possible. When not possible, keep still. Remember that unpleasant frankness, unkind opinions, harsh judgments, are no part of truth.

When you are among people do not feel as if you must at once make a special effort to be different from what you always are.

Let your brain work as it would if you were at home alone, and then you will be sure to say and do just as bright and entertaining things as you imagine yourself saying and doing when you are alone.

Not a Question of Grammar.

"From the grammatical standpoint," said the fair maid with the lofty forehead, "which do you consider correct. 'I had rather go home,' or 'I would rather go home?'"

"Neither," promptly responded the young man. "I'd much rather stay here."—Answers.

Town Council.

The regular meeting of the Town Council was held Thursday evening last. Mayor H. H. Gaetz in the chair. Members present: Councillors Botterill, Tallman, McKee and Pidgeon.

COMMUNICATIONS.
The C.P.R. wrote asking for explanation as to how the assessment of $31,500 against the company was made.
Wilbert McIntyre, M. P. wrote inquiring about department Minister Marine and Fisheries offering to place a meteorological station in Red Deer if arrangements can be made with C. P. R. Co. to make regular reports to Winnipeg.
Chief Rothnie asked for leave of absence to attend camp at Calgary.
The Town Solicitor sent in a faxed bill of costs re. Red Deer Mill and Elevator Co., which is payable to Walsh & McCarthy.
The Edmonton Cement Co. wrote this Mr. Patterson was unable to come to Red Deer last week, but would be in town in a few days to complete arrangements for establishing a branch of the works in town.

W. A. Allan wrote, asking for increase of salary and about hours of work in the Town Clerk's office.
Dep. minister John Stocks wrote from Edmonton re. taxes on Bell Telephone Co.'s poles, switch boards, etc., and stating this property was exempt from taxes and should be struck off the list. The clerk said this property was assessed before the government took over the line.
The Stratford Mill Building Co. wrote offering the town the machinery in the mill for $800.
The Mayor said an answer had been made to the company that this sum could not be entertained, and asked the company to remove the machinery.
A. Diller, Calgary, wrote asking cost of license for merry-go-round.
The Sun Life Insurance Co. wrote re. debentures, etc.
Councillor Botterill moved, seconded by Councillor Pidgeon that the application of W. A. Allan, as per his letter of June 10th, be not granted. Carried.

Mr. Brumpton addressed the Council asking that a small appropriation be made to the Board of Trade to help defray the expenses of the Board this year. He also spoke with regard to the visit of the Minister of Agriculture, who would visit our town the 22nd of July next and that the Board of Trade would entertain them.
On motion of Councillors Tallman and Botterill, a grant of one hundred dollars was made to the Board of Trade to help defray expenses of Board for 1908.

COMMISSIONER'S REPORT.
The Commissioners brought in their regular report.
They had prepared engineer's plans, specifications and estimates for the extension of water mains from the intersection of Victoria Avenue on Gaetz Avenue and west on Victoria Avenue from Gaetz Avenue to end of street. A by-law dealing with the matter was also submitted.
They also submitted a report and regulations respecting public health passed by health committee for consideration of Council.
Chief of police Rothnie was granted leave of absence to attend camp at Calgary. Mr. Millin and chief McKee are in charge during his absence.
The failure to get the catch basins put in was due to failure of Edmonton Iron Works to fill order for certain castings. The work will be proceeded with as soon as they arrive.
The scales have been put in the stock yard and the fences completed.
The receipts and disbursements for the month of May have been tabulated together with the accounts which were made checked over and certified.
They recommended that a caretaker be secured up to Oct. 1st, at $50 a month, to take care of the cemetery.
A permit was granted the Western General Electric Co. to erect the addition to their building. The addition to be removed within two years.
The medical health officer's report for May shows six cases of scarlet fever in three different localities. The mild cases and promptly quarantined. No new cases have developed. It is hoped further outbreak is over. No new cases of infectious diseases have been detected this month.
In our report of 14th ult. we called attention to risk of fire occasioned by tying up and feeding horses on vacant lots within first class fire limits, and recommended by-law be proposed prohibiting the practice. There were difficulties in the way, and the commissioners suggested the advisability of providing accommodation for farmers and others to tie up their horses on the market square. This would be convenient for the purpose. It might also prove an advisable step in the direction of interesting the farmers in the establishment of a market. The grounds could be kept in order by present employees, and the unsightly and dangerous caused by present practice be eliminated.
They presented a report by Mr. Neville regarding an additional pump. After carefully considering the matter they recommended that an electrically driven pump of a capacity of 200,000 gallons in 24 hours, which would empty land on domestic supply for some years to come, be installed; that the present pump be kept in condition and readiness for fire use; that a pit about 4 or 5 feet deep be excavated on the present pump house, floored with concrete and made water tight, and that pumps be secured.

ed that much, thereby reducing the lift. Such a pump could be installed for about $800 or $900, exclusive of the excavation or concreting.
The report of Mr. Blythe on the special audit was read and moved by the commissioners.
Councillor McKee moved, seconded by Councillor Tallman, that a man be engaged for one month at $50 to attend to the Red Deer cemetery. Carried.
That which was paid a dividend by Councillor Tallman, that the commissioners be instructed to secure bids on an electrical pump as outlined in their report under date of June 11th, and ask to secure further expert views on the matter of pump, between the report of the commissioners was adopted as amended.
A by-law was passed to raise the sum of $1,500 for the extension of the water works system to the south end of the town.
On motion of Councillor Pidgeon and Botterill, the secretary-treasurer was authorized to take the necessary steps to recover amounts overpaid by the town to the electric light company and other other similar amounts. They were, they claimed, nearly cover cost of special audit.
The following accounts were certified correct and ordered to be paid:
West Gen. Electric Co. $17.00
Ilsey Bros. 2.20
McCall Co. 7.00
A. Trimble 20.30
Canadian Fairbanks Co. 28.00
G. Percy Blythe 2.84
F. W. Galbraith 30.00
West Can. Cement Co. 24.80
R. C. Brumpton 31.80
Can. Pacific Co. 11.20
W. A. Culbert 11.35
W. E. Trump 4.50
Gaetz, Chas. & Co. 5.00
F. H. Tallman 0.45
Smith & Gaetz 120.85
Time sheet, May 28.30
Gaetz & Gaetz 4.00
W. Springfield 11.05
Walsh & McCarthy 107.00
Greene & Payne 112.70
The report of the special audit of the town's books by G. B. Pitye, official auditor, of Edmonton, was read.
The report stated that the audit covered a period from Jan. 1908, to May 1908. It was shown that small errors had taken place during that period. In some cases accounts were slightly overpaid, in others not quite enough, but this was due, it was thought, to the system of book keeping. It was recommended that certain improvements be made in the system, and an effort will be made to secure repayment of overpaid accounts. Altogether the audit was most satisfactory and showed the books to be correctly maintained. Mr. Blythe was secured as auditor for the balance of the year at a salary of $175.

The Creamery Question.
To the Editor of the News.
Sir,—As creamery men, I am sure we are all largely indebted to you for the amount of space you have so kindly given us for the discussion of this subject in the News, but with your permission I would like to make a few comments on Mr. Trimble's last letter. I am very pleased to find that Mr. Trimble has no very serious criticism to make of my letter. What he credits me with saying about steady the market was a quotation from Mr. Trimble's speech. I am sure I never thought for a moment that Alberta butter affected the world's market. What I did say was that "the Government held the market (our market) controlled only by Vancouver and Montreal." This has been fully explained by Mr. Marker on a chart at public meetings.
Regarding the figures Mr. Trimble gives for the Government creamery, they are correct as far as they go, but they are not quite complete; everyone will remember that the Creamery Association refunded to their patrons the amount for what is known as local working fund; this was done because of the Government guarantee to make the butter for four cents per pound, plus the actual cost of hauling. This local working fund is supposed to come out of the four cents, and takes the place of what we got as rent and surplus when the Dominion Government ran the creamery. Now, owing to the small make of butter, the cost of manufacture took up all the four cents, and also left the Government in the hole about $200.00, and the local working fund appeared as an extra charge on our patrons. Judging by the fund to the figures given by Mr. Trimble, we have:—
May - 22.35
June - 10.45
July - 10.45
August - 10.45
September - 19.38
October - 19.38
I am pleased to see that Mr. Trimble made 75,000 lbs. of butter at his home creamery, but as he made this quantity he had the greatest advantage over the Government creamery that it is possible for one creamery to have over another. There is a distinct and well-known difference between the quantity of butter made and what it actually costs to manufacture it. One of the U.S.A. experimental stations published in the News a table showing a make of 40,000 or 50,000 lbs. usually costs about four cents, depending of course on the cost of labor and supplies. We only made 53,000 lbs.; Mr. Marker stated last fall that if we had made another 25,000 lbs., that extra 25,000 could have been made at about two cents per pound, as practically the same cost for labor, fuel, etc., would have done it. This would have shown a profit on the extra make. That which was paid a dividend to our shareholders, and I think most likely have noted our patrons an average price for the summer of 19 cents per pound against Mr. Trimble's 16.33, which is the average of his payments. Now Mr. Trimble did make this extra 25,000 lbs., therefore arguing on this line, Mr. Trimble should have paid his patrons at least about one cent per pound more than he did, especially as he has no shareholders who are kicking for dividends, and also claims that he makes a higher price of his butter than the Government, which very likely he does.

Seventy-five per cent. of our patrons are shareholders and own the building and plant, which was paid for partly by the shares, but largely out of the profits of former years. The Government creamery lost considerable cream last summer by the starting of the cheese factory. Cheese is as much a legitimate product of the province as butter, and if the cheese factory operates outside the territory covered by the creameries it is all right; it is not that one factory should try to cut the other out, but rather that enough farmers should do enough dairying to keep them running full blast and at a profit, and the farmers themselves would be the richer for it.
Mr. Martin is quite wrong when he says this discussion was started to drive Mr. Trimble out of the business.
Mr. Carswell's first letter was a plea for the support of the Government creamery on the ground that we could not expect the Government to establish a pork-packing plant if the farmers did not support the existing Government institution of the creameries, but not to any new thing like the cheese factory, as some of our old patrons did last summer. I believe Mr. Trimble favours a Government pork-packing establishment; in fact, I think it very likely that Mr. Trimble is himself a co-operator at heart, although he supports the private creamery as a personal business proposition; and I would suggest that the greatest benefit to the Government creamery men could give to a Government packing plant would be for them to put their creameries under Government control; if this step secured a Government packing plant, it would pay in the end, for if the Government packing house induced as steady a market for hogs as the Government creamery control has for butter, and but not to any new thing like the cheese factory, as some of our old patrons did last summer. C. J. B. WARD.
Mr. Editor—
I had a distinct object in view when I started this controversy in "The News."
It was to hold the farmers together and get them to realize what their best interests lay. Our creameries were thrown in the limelight through the A. F. A. using them as an illustration of what they wanted the government to do for the pork packing, beef canning and elevator facilities, all of vital interest to the farmers. The A.F.A. had been working with the Minister of Agriculture, and seemed to be making some headway, when the premier took hold, and at our country store stood the farmers were not supporting the government creameries." That put it up to us farmers all right, and tended to show the way things were shaping. The letter in The News written by Joshua Fletcher, President of the A. F. A., shows up another move of the premier. Every farmer should read that letter, for it seems to show it is a premier who is doing things now. Then the three premiers, viz. Maniotcha, Saskatchewan, Alberta and Regina, are united to discuss the elevator problem. The Farmers' association of the three provinces are united on this question, and the premier of the three governments are united to want to be. Now the word has come out about that meeting, whether for or against the project. But one thing we can bank on sure. If the farmers are united, we will get something done. If we are divided, we won't. Brother farmers, are not these things worth working for? It is you I am trying to wake up, and see where you are at. And Mr. Trimble woke up all right, and accuses me of misleading you, but does not say where. He even publishes the statement of both creameries to prove that he paid 14 cents per lb. of butter more than the government, therefore the government creamery was no good, and would be "spoiled off" and should be "waxed." He is wrong again, to the extent of 1.30 cents per lb. of butter. The commissioners paid this 1.30 cents out of the price received for the butter, to the association as a local working fund. And it is so shown in the balance statement and general statement. But as the association had no right to it, the directors at their first meeting refunded it to the patrons, to whom it belonged, and it was published in all the papers.

Here is the true statement of what the government creamery paid, and Mr. Trimble's I also give as he gave it, I presume it is correct:

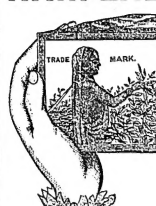

Government	Trimble
May 22.45 cts.	22.00 cts.
June 16.45 "	16.33 "
July 16.45 "	16.00 "
August 16.45 "	16.33 "
Sept. 19.38 "	18.00 "
Oct. 19.38 "	21.00 "
110.40	110.00

Now does any one think that Mr. Trimble would have paid that much unless he had to. Just one cent less per pound to his patrons would have put $1,100 in his pocket. The only private creamery not in active competition with the government creameries, I am informed, only paid 16c. Have we any certainty that Mr. Trimble would have done any better, if he had not been steeled by the creamery fully equipped, deliver the cream, and pay 4 cents for every lb. of butter "manufactured, and Andy Trimble calls us a "poor, weak affair," and he would like to know how many thousand dollars it has cost the people of this province to keep this off-shoot, I answer him, not one dollar, but we have saved the farmers probably thousands.
And we could do quite as well in the pork packing, if the farmers will only make use of the government co-operation they have got, and prove to the government that they want, and are worthy of, government co-operation in these other lines.
Thanking you Mr. Editor,

INTERNAL GEAR
THIS GEAR GIVES INSTANT ACTION TO KNIVES

It starts them going at the same instant the engine power wheel moves, that they do not just motion. A power's value lies in its power to cut grass and weeds. That's where our No. 8 Mower proves its worth. This internal gear works smoothly and continuously with a steady power to the pitman. It produces almost no friction, and that unpleasant vibration and pounding prominent in some mowers is absent. The is provided with ball and roller bearings wherever any wear occurs. So carefully is the No. 8 put together and so thoroughly tested at the factory that it will handle the heaviest hay, and though subjected to the severest strains, still it will be remarkably low for the results needed. We can point to Frost & Wood Mowers made twenty years ago that are cutting grass now. Our cutters are formed out of the toughest steel procurable. Pitman-head and jaws are forged steel. Pitman is made of tough, seasoned hickory. The convenient foot lift raises the whole cutter bar from end to end when passing stones or other obstructions.

Mr. Farmer, this is the only mower you own—a economy, a window and forecast—an insurance against worry. Send now for our literature—“Look! Look!” and “Look! Look!”

In your vicinity will easily see a Frost & Wood Mower. Write for literature, free to ask him any question.

THE PORK PACKING COMMISSION.

The Commission to investigate the Pork Packing industry is not yet appointed so far as we can learn. Mr. James Bower, president of the Red Deer A.F.A., was mentioned as one of the Commission but Mr. Bower would only act conditionally, that is he wanted a free hand, we understand and wanted two farmers on the Commission and to know who the other Commissioners were before accepting the appointment. This seems reasonable. A man who is determined to do his duty should not be asked to go blind.

The Farmers Advocate in speaking of the Commission says: The Alberta government is engaged in getting another commission under way. They seem to have a weakness for these kind of things out there. Every time anything crops up a commission is promptly appointed to look into it and report. This time it seems investigation will be along the line of determining the cost of putting up, equipping and operating meat packing establishments. This commission it appears is to inquire into the practicability of certain suggestions made by their brethren of the beef commission. It is quite possible that when this one makes its suggestions another will have to investigate the possibility in some other direction of what it recommends. And so the game goes merrily along.

We are not prepared to say whether either the Alberta or Manitoba governments are to be censured for the manner in which they received or are endeavoring to carry out the suggestions of the beef commission, whether the Manitoba government's action in quietly pigeon holing that notorious report is open to any more criticism than the strenuous action which the Alberta government is pretending to be making. It seems to us that the average stock grower in Alberta is inclined to disapprove of further investigations into the condition of the live-stock and meat industries. The cry continually and everywhere is for more buyers and a squarer deal from the railways and stock yards people to the small shipper sending through his own stuff. The man who is feeding hogs in Alberta these days doesn't need a government commission or anything resembling it to understand that there is a good rake off somewhere for somebody when hogs sell for four cents a pound and bacon for twenty-two. He sees little necessity of any prolonged and expensive investigations to find out whether or not the Pat Burns company is doing a profitable business on such a margin.

This commission will no doubt hand in an interesting and voluminous report. The men who are to constitute have not yet, to our knowledge been named, but it is safe betting that their finding will rank equal in most respects to the work of their illustrious predecessors of beef and lumber fame. May the good work proceed.

The Toronto Globe, in speaking of the Aylesworth Bill, says: "Why lists prepared by Premier 'Roblin's' officials should be 'sacrosanct, while those prepared 'by County Courts judges on 'behalf of the Parliament of 'Canada should be anathema, 'may be left for Mr. Borden and 'his friends to explain."

This statement is made by the Liberal press so often that the question is asked, is it a fact that the Manitoba lists are made up by Mr. Roblin's officials and the proposed federal lists by County Court judges?

The Manitoba lists are certainly made up by the judges. The law says:

"For the purpose of revising the lists of electors the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council shall authorize the issuing of a proclamation constituting the several judges of the County Courts a board for the purpose hereinafter mentioned. Such board shall be designated or called 'The Board of Registration."

The question whether the Laurier Government proposes to have Federal lists made by County Court judges, as alleged, is answered by a citation from the Aylesworth Bill, which says that for the preparation of Dominion lists:

"The Governor-in-Council may appoint all necessary officers, and confer upon them all necessary powers."

This is the language of the proposed measure, and if there is any reference in it to County Court judges, we fail to see where it is. The truth is that the present Manitoba voters' lists are made by County Court judges, and that the lists which the Dominion Government proposed to make were to be made by appointees of the Government instead of by judges.

In 1896 Mr. Laurier and his friends obstructed supply and talked Parliament to its death by effluence of time, leaving the country without any voted supply, and the public officials without the salaries for some three months till a new Parliament was elected and an expensive special session held to grant supply. How can any Laurier organ condemn obstruction? asks the Halifax Herald.

The standing of the parties in Ontario is as follows:

Conservatives	87
Liberals	18
Labor	1

Conservative majority 68
The Toronto News on nomination day gave a forecast of a Conservative majority of 38. If the News is as far astray in its forecast of Dominion as it was of provincial affairs the Conservative party will be returned at the next general elections.

John T. Moore, M. P. P., may possibly come up to Red Deer from his home in Toronto and spend his holidays here. But we are not even sure of that. This constituency would be far better served with no member than to be made the laughing stock of the whole province. As a prominent Liberal said the other day "if he can't come and attend to his duties as our representative, like a man, let him resign."

The Whitney government did away with the marked ballot. The people backed them up in that last week. The Aylesworth Bill in the Dominion House stands for the marked ballot. But the people will not have it and the Conservative party at Ottawa will not stand for it. The ballot must be a strictly secret ballot says the people and the people rule.

The Farmers Advocate pokes fun at the provincial governments commissions. When anything is required to be shelved a commission is appointed to deal with it. The farmers are getting onto the shape of the government and there is going to be stirring times in Alberta when they appeal to the people again unless they mend their ways.

Hon. Frank Oliver says that the morals of people in the Yukon are just as good as those of Ottawa and Montreal people. Well we should say they were—especially when Cliff Sifton and the rest of the boys are in session at Ottawa.—Camrose Mail.

Monday's Toronto Globe, which has reached us, has the following legend stretched across the bottom of the front page next to reading matter: "Toronto Liberals Should Poll Every Possible Vote." The trouble with the possible Liberal vote in Toronto is that there isn't enough of it to go round.—Calgary News.

It is not likely Sir Wilfrid will consider it necessary to bring on the elections this year. With the sweeping victory in Ontario and the considerable conservative gain in Quebec, he will more likely patch up the old ship and scrape a few of the grafter barnacles from the bottom before appealing to the people.

Three of the biggest majorities were given to Hon. J. S. Hendrie, Hon. Adam Beck and Mr. McNaught—the three members of the Hydro-Electric Power commission. Do you think this is merely accidental? asks the Independent Hamilton Herald.

If one feels dull and spiritless, in the spring or early summer, they call it "Spring Fever." But there is no fever—usually. It is the after effect of our winter habits. The nerves are mostly at fault. Tired, worn-out nerves leave us languid, lifeless, and without spirit or ambition. A few doses of Dr. Shoop's Restorative will absolutely and quickly change all of these depressing symptoms. The Restorative of course won't bring you back to full health in a day or two, but it will do enough in 48 hours to satisfy you that the remedy is reaching that "dread spot." Druggists everywhere are advertising its use as a splendid and prompt general tonic. It gives more vim and more spirit to the spoonful than any other known nerve or constitutional tonic. It sharpens a failing appetite, aids digestion, frees sluggish livers and kidneys, and brings new life, strength and ambition. Test it a few days and be convinced. Brown's Pharmacy.

DOMINION FAIR, CALGARY.
JUNE 29 TO JULY 9, 1908.

(Reprinted from The Monetary Times)
Calgary wishes the Dominion Exhibition this year. If other cities are jealous of this honor their feelings have no outward appearance. After all, jealousy is only a phase of ambition. Edmonton, Lethbridge, Moose Jaw, Brandon, Regina, Medicine Hat, may all have their eyes on the Government exhibition grant; but this year they will pack their grips, travelling with light hearts and heavy purses to a city born with many silver spoons.

Pathos in the appeal issued by the Exhibition promoters. Come, they say, before the Indians and cowboys and the fascinating Western life are far into the background by the energetic wheat farmer. An illustration of a horse-backed rancher brought to bay by a white stock adds significance. Wheat is business, a figure of romance. Business is a questing sentiment. The binder is chasing the wild horse over the horizon. When you visit Calgary in July they will show you some "old-time rough riding by real cowboys." You will see also "some real Indian races." The farmer knows well enough that the Indian and the cowboy have all but changed their home from the prairies to the circus. Rough riding and the square races will be tendered as amusement. Just as in Delft, and Rouen, and Berlin they put up quaint figures and customs like puppets for the tourist's inspection.

Where years ago there was one cowboy there are now hundreds of stooks. Western wildness clings to Calgary, but only a tinge to remind one it was born of the prairie. The story of the ranchers who upst the travelling show blows around as the winds. It happened at Calgary. The feature of the circus come to town was an exhibition of larist throwing, probably by men who could tell you more in a minute concerning populous cities than in a week regarding the real West. But the Calgary boys rescued tradition from the bottom of the circus drum. They took the show and rode in with their lassoes the whole contingency of cowboy mummies. This smacks of the West; the moral is that the West knows, and knows what it knows.

One might think because the things which were, are not now, that Calgary suffers disappointment. But the song of Alberta Red has a counteractive effect on dinges or reminiscence among sentimentalists. Who cares a jot for the past when the future is bounded only by enterprise? Visitors to the Exhibition will extract from the Japanese acrobats a train of thought running Oriental labor problem. The vaudeville show is second in the minds of men who come from afar, men who want to know something about irrigation, of land values, of the sheep industry. What Toronto can begin to compare statistics with big cities across the border—granted one is looking far head—and Calgary becomes an enlarged Winnipeg in Alberta—folks who mark back to the days of 1908. Then they may tell of the good work of exhibitions—ingenious advertising mediums.

What led the Government to choose this city? For one reason, it is a general divisional point on the Canadian Pacific Railway; and again, the rails of the Grand Trunk Pacific, the Canadian Northern, and the Great Northern will glisten in Calgary sunshine shortly. Another reason: it is growing; it deserves to grow. Nearly twenty-three thousand souls there carry on the daily task. The Board of Trade and the Hundred Thousand Club have helped to trumpet its name abroad. Then there are grain, and cattle and dairy farms, all within the district. An American settler east of the city will tell you that he broke and seeded to Alberta red winter wheat five hundred acres of land on his farm. This yielded him thirty-eight bushels to the acre, altogether some nineteen thousand bushels.

This City of Silver Spoons knows its fair will advertise, first Canada, secondly Alberta, thirdly itself. Thus, the event is important. It will preach the gospel of Alberta to congregations everywhere. Something for pride that is, when you know that some sixty per cent. of their red winter wheat grades Number One. Weigh up Alberta oats, too; it varies anything from one to fifteen pounds heavier than oats grown elsewhere. Alberta barley takes first choice of the Eastern breweries. Another of those silver spoons is its live stock possibilities. From a ranch near Calgary came Robin Adair, a brave-looking hackney, which trotted over to the St. Louis World's Fair to pick up a first prize. Alberta cattle is known by the men who sail in ships. It is worthy of exportation. The district of which the exhibition will tell owes much to Providence. Folks admit that between whistles. The Chinook winds, from the banks of the lower Columbia River, help to make an ideal climate. Stories of the fifty-feet-of-snow and the frozen-to-death variety are only money-making devices for tickling the ears of far-away Yankies. This July many of our neighbors across the international boundary will press Calgary-wards. They will smile then at those winter fairy tales.

A happy thought when you are traipsing around the fair grounds—Calgary is but one city of dozens building up a wonderful country in the West. One will learn more, perhaps, in July of Alberta than any other Province, more of Calgary than any other city. An elasticity of conscience allows human beings to say everything good of themselves. Others may do likewise. Let your imagination slip away a little trip across Alberta. You can't forget the City of Silver Spoons anyway. It is helping to make things.

YUKON SCANDALS.

Dr. Pringle's Scathing Denouncement.

On Tuesday morning of last week, Dr. Pringle, apostle of virtue and clean living in the Yukon, has been the guest of honor at the general assembly at Winnipeg enthralled for two hours while he scathingly denounced the scandals which he said had polluted public and private life in Dawson City. "I am going to stay there," he said, "and neither church or state will get me behind the fence again. I am going to stay right down in the rough and tumble where Jesus of Nazareth stood. I have never believed in taking these matters into the pulpit, but it seems that the teaching of Christ should make itself felt in every branch of life. God giving me brain and courage, I intend to keep right on at the alleged immorality of our national life must be laid in righteousness."

Such was his summing up after he had exposed the debauchery and vice, and electoral corruption, which, according to his story it unparalleled. After outlining his fruitless efforts of the past six years to get the federal government to purge the Yukon, Dr. Pringle said that he was to deal with political villainy and moral turpitude was to shake one's fist in its face.

RIGHTEOUS INDIGNATION.
"There was a point," he went on, "when charity ended and righteous indignation began, and that point has been reached. It is now a question of the words of Christ, 'Ye, serpents, ye generation of vipers, how shall ye escape the damnation of hell?' As he concluded the great gathering applauded to one man, while tears streamed down the cheeks of more than one white haired divine. It was a remarkable scene.

REPLIES TO DR. PRINGLE.
Tuesday afternoon Dr. J. G. Shearer, secretary of the social and moral reform committee, spoke in reply to the strictures of Dr. Pringle on the alleged immorality in the Yukon. He stated that he had a statement to make regarding two or three points of Dr. Pringle's address. "First, regarding the administration of law in the Yukon," he said, "the committee believes that the quiet way, other things being equal is the best way of settling matters of right and wrong. In saying this I am not in any way criticising or reflecting upon Dr. Pringle's manly and aggressive attitude. Another principle that we believe in is never criticizing any public official except where truth and righteousness admit. We also believe in giving credit to them where it is due. We took up the question of the administration in the Yukon quietly with the government at Ottawa, and now I am here to give the results.

COMMISSIONER A PRESBYTERIAN.
"The present commissioner in the Yukon accepted his position last summer and immediately stated that he intended to enforce the laws far as possible. The present governor of the Yukon, you will be glad to know, is a Presbyterian and was brought up on oatmeal and the shorter catechism. You have heard, no doubt, that the police in the Yukon were under instructions from Ottawa to act only when the initiative was taken by private citizens. We resolved at once to remedy this and make a change so that it would be incumbent upon no private citizen to prosecute in matters for which the constabulary are paid."

Dr. Shearer then read the first of the open letters from Sir Wilfrid Laurier in which letters he enforced the steps being taken to enforce law in the Yukon.

AS ROTTER AS ELSEWHERE.
"Unquestionably, things in the Yukon, have been just about as rotten as they could be," Dr. Shearer went on. "It is also as hard a thing to administer the law there as it is in other parts of the country. But we want it understood that every public man in any part of the country who endeavors to really inquire into vice should be made to feel that he is backed up by every decent citizen in Canada. The Lord's Day act has not been enforced in the Yukon because of that clause in the act to the effect that the attorney general's consent shall be required for every individual prosecution under the act. Manifestly, in the winter, it is impossible to communicate with Ottawa. On this subject I have secured one of the letters from the premier. You can see from this letter that in a short time the law in reference to Sunday observance will be enforced much better than in certain other places in Canada. I can tell you of a city in eastern Canada where, within a short distance from the Y. M. C. A., there are over ninety unlicensed hotels running contrary to the law and a red light district with all its accompanying evils. I can tell you of a province in eastern Canada where the houses of prostitution advertise their shame in letters of black and gold on plain glass windows in the front of their houses of ill-fame."

A COSTLY ICE-BREAKER.

The government ice-breaker Montclair, which now lies at the bottom of the river St. Lawrence, says the Edmonton Journal, has cost the country up-to-date $807,725. The ice breaker is a lumbering piece of an ocean craft. It has never done a cent worth of good to the country since it was bought four years ago. What little it has accomplished could have been done better by a $2,000 tug.

Repairs to the amount of $119,377 have been affected in the four years, and there have been expended in furnishings, $6,853. The purchase price was $265,233. An investigation is now going on into the collision which proved so disastrous to this stupendous ice-breaker, and it has been ascertained that the engineer marks his order on a near-by post, transferring them at leisure to the logs. It was also brought out that an order was given shortly before the collision had been written on an old scrap of paper that the engineer possibly carried in his vest pocket for the week previous. $807,725 for a useless ice-breaker and only $500,000 for agriculture—what do you think of it?

The Wetaskiwin Post, in an article dealing with the question of politics, has the following pertinent remarks:

"That the whole political history of Canada contains no pages so black with graft, unblinking effort, moral turpitude as that which records the action of the present federal government, especially during the last few years when with the aid of approaching retribution, caution and honor were thrown to the wind. That it is the duty of every elector—to himself as a man, to his wife as a husband, to his children as a father, to his country as a loyal son—to use his vote faithfully as a sacred heritage to turn out the present Government, because they have done wrong, and any future government must follow in their path.

We plead for Honest government by honest men, regardless of party influence. Provincial Rights. National School. Railways Owned by The People; not paid for by The People and owned by Private Corporations. Better Postal Rates. Less Restriction and red tape in mailing weekly papers to the U. S. Rural Mail Delivery. Civil Service Appointment based upon Merit Only."

"Weak women should try Dr. Shoop's Night Cure. These soothing, healing, antiseptic suppositories go direct to the seat of the trouble, and cure it. No. 4 For Women" contains many valuable hints to women, and it is free. Ask Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. to mail it. Ask the Doctor in strictest confidence, any questions you wish answered. "Water, water everywhere, some to drink and some to spare." Such is the cry of the country at the present time. On account of the prolonged rain and thunder storms, the rivers and creeks have overflowed their banks, sweeping away nearly all the foot bridges and causing much anxiety to some of the farmers, who can not get across to the store for their mail and provisions. On Friday last the bridge over the Blackfoot river was carried away and the mail carrier, in trying to cross, was unfortunately enough to have one of his horses slip and fall, and he was stuck in the creek for an hour before help came to him. Surely we need some new bridges in this part of the world.
